On Again, Off Again

I have been visiting churches to report on our work. In fact, the last two Sundays I was reporting to supporting churches in Texas.

It seems that the restrictions on our lives due to the Corona virus are on, then off, then on somewhat. And it's the same for our workers in India.

For example, last week the bank we use in Bangalore was closed for two weeks because some of the workers contracted the virus. When that happens here, it's inconvenient but we merely go to another branch.

But in India the people can only go to the one branch that they must use all the time. This is so the bank can personally identify their customers due to the terrorism threat in India.

So, our office there was unable to do any banking work, although by the time you read this, they ought to be open again.

Preacher's Help

One of the terrible consequences of this situation is that the demands on our preachers and their churches have increased quite a lot.

Many of you support preachers in India through the Church of Christ India Fund. You are doing a great work, yet I'd like to ask you to prayerfully consider this request:

Can you, for the next month or two, double the support that you are sending to us for the preachers you support?

This is important for a number of reasons.

- The cost of food is rising rapidly in India, just like it is here but more so.
- The need for churches there to provide aid to the poverty stricken members is much more intense now.
- These Christians are hard workers, but their work has simply vanished in the lock downs and business closings.
- Our preachers do this work for only one reason: they care. They care about souls, therefore these preachers are often denying themselves in order to help their members as they can.
- Finally, in this time of struggle, when their Hindu neighbors witness Christians helping and sacrificing for other Christians they see a powerful difference between worshiping the living God and worshiping dead images of nonexistent gods.

Have Mask, Will Travel!

As I mentioned above, I've begun traveling again to report to congregations on the work we're all so passionate about.

It's a deep joy to share in fellowship together as we talk about what the Lord is doing in India, and about how they are facing the Satanic attacks.

Many of our churches here in the U.S. are struggling with this situation, and many individual Christians too. I receive a lot of encouragement by meeting with you who are struggling to hold fast the faith once and for all delivered to the Saints!

And, I love sharing and encouraging you too. Encouraging you energizes me!

So please give me a call or an email (or even a text message) to let me know that you want me to visit with you.

I'm looking forward to it, even if we have to eye one another over masks and bump elbows instead of shaking hands!

There used to be a western show on television, Have Gun, Will Travel. Well, now, for me: Have Mask, Will Travel!
