A Change of Pace

Most of the time my newsletters are written text talking about various aspects of our work in India and places in that part of the world.

But for this newsletter, I thought I'd simply show you some pictures of the people we work with for you to enjoy.

The top image is a picture of some of the widows you are helping us to support. They are standing in a vacant lot adjacent to a local church building. The building behind them is a local factory that produces agricultural products from the crops brought in from the fields.

The bottom image (you might want to turn the newsletter to view it better) is of a baptism being performed by one of the preachers we help support. Notice it is in a rain-water cistern rather than a dedicated baptistry.
